FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 21, 1862.

Primary Meetings To-Morrow.

On Saturday the Union men of this State will hold their primary meetings. We presume they understand the importance of being present at these meetings, and of the necessity of selecting proper delegates to make the nominations for county officers, and members of the Legislature, to be voted for at the June election. We trust that there will be a full attendance of the Union men, not only in our county, but in all the counties of the State. Much depends on the proper manner in which the business will be done at the primary meetings, to be held to-morrow.

The Grand Ronde Route.

The Walla Walla Statesman and the Portland Times have occasionally represented the Oregonian as stating that a direct route to the Salmon river mines existed between the Dalles and those mines. This is not so. In a new country like ours it is important that new routes and new roads from one point of the country to another should be explored and opened as they are needed. The Mountaineer some time ago contained statements which seemed to prove that there was a direct and feasible trail from the Dalles, by way of the Grand Ronde, to the Salmon river mines. If that was so, we regarded the fact—as everybody else should—as of some importance to the country; and in giving the statements of the Mountaineer and of Mr. Meek in favor of that statement, and of Dr. Newell in contradiction, it was done without reference to the rivalry that seems to exist between Walla Walla and the Dalles. We venture to say that if there can be a good route for a road from the Grand Ronde to the Salmon river mines, the fact will be of importance to the country. We do not pretend to say that there is such a route, and shall doubt if there be one until we have better evidence than we have yet seen. We have merely given what every editor ought to do, on a subject of as much importance to the country as this, evidence pro and con, which has a bearing on the subject. The great travel to and from the Salmon river mines will keep on the best known route. That is our opinion; and it should be so. The supposition that the Oregonian is, or has been, taking sides in the rivalry between Walla Walla and the Dalles, is sheer nonsense. Walla Walla need have no fears that the packing business to the mines will be done from the Dalles to the mines instead of from Walla Walla, until a better packing trail can be found than the present one. And if such a trail cannot be discovered, and does not exist, as we are assured by Walla Walla writers and editors—we really cannot divine why there should be such sensitiveness. It will be time enough to become excited when there is cause. We have never taken part, nor do we intend to do so, in the rivalries for business between Walla Walla and the Dalles. Every insinuation or assertion to the contrary is without foundation.

The Walla Walla Statesman, of Jan. 3d, states from information derived from Mr. D. S. Littlefield, that parties on Powder river have found good prospects; that "not to exceed fifty men are in the Grand Ronde valley, and a large proportion of these are engaged in the prospective route to Salmon river and in building a mill. There are only four families settled in the valley. Mr. Stephen Coffin's mill is progressing, and will probably be completed in about three months."

A letter from Washington to the Sacramento Union says the Pacific delegation have recommended the formation of a new postal district out of Oregon and Washington, and the appointment of Burlingame of Oregon, Postal Agent. Their wishes will, doubtless, be complied with.

The Walla Walla Statesman says that a party is engaged to survey a direct route from Walla to the Salmon river mines. Is it supposed that a route can be found which will "cut off" Lewiston?

MORE PACK TRAINS.—Mr. Sherry Ross, of this city, crossed a fine lot of pack mules on the ferry yesterday, with the intention of packing provisions to the Salmon river mines.

OVERBOARD.—A gentleman made a misstep on board the Julia yesterday, and tumbled overboard. Being an expert swimmer, he received nothing but a good wetting.

Clarkesville is about forty miles north-west of Nashville. In times past it boasted of five newspapers. It had a large trade.

From Walla Walla.

WALLA WALLA, March 7th, 1862.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

We have been shut out from all the world and the "rest of mankind" for two mortal months, and my casket is well nigh full. Although I have been denied converse with you, I have not forgotten my promise. Now that the prospect of a thaw is a little flattering, I will endeavor to give you my little budget.

We have been enjoying a sort of Celestial repose, or Rip Van Winkle sleep some sixty days. Your correspondent is still alive, that is he has been drawling out a sort of torpid existence. The weather has been such in this region as would have disturbed the philosophic mind of a Sancho Panza. Your humble servant is almost induced to exclaim with his Squireship, "Blessed is the man who invented sleep!" The restless and ever-thoughtful Cassius could not have excited jealousy in a Cæsar, had he lived in such a time as we have just passed through. This lethargic spirit seems to have infused itself into the minds of nearly our entire population. Business is at a low ebb. Nothing doing.

Our town is unusually quiet at this time. Even the tippling-houses are affected by the general stagnation. The outsiders, patrons of such institutions, who were all more or less flush in the Fall, many of them are not able to obtain grub; and I venture the assertion, that no community can present a more formidable array of bummers. They became such a pest to the boarding-houses and saloons that several of the former, as well as the latter, had to close the doors against them. None but the most resolute persons could withstand their mendacity. That class of persons usually have a great penchant for whisky. We have all grades of gamblers, and a full share of the roughs.

There have been quite a number of shooting scrapes here this winter. I might say, however, that, considering the number of idlers and loafers, the amount of crime is not great. I forgot to mention that the Sheriff of Walla Walla county had to suspend the dealing of liquor in his saloon. He failed to attract "the crowd." The greater number of county officials have been elected by the sporting gentry; consequently a shooting affair about town excites but little notice or surprise.

Building in town is going on quite rapidly; much less is being done than if lumber was plenty. It is scarce and high—$60 per 1,000. The mills could not be reached by reason of the snow, which was on an average about three feet all over the country, and still continues to cover from view the grass from the poor stock. Of the cattle I might say that nine of every ten that were in the valley in the Fall, have perished. The snow has been on the ground about three months. The winter has outrivalled anything I have hitherto experienced. Horses have fared better, the mortality has not reached, perhaps, to one-fifth.

The stocks of all our merchants have run down quite low; while the prices of almost all the leading articles of trade have very materially advanced. Flour is selling at $24 per bbl.; bacon 37½@40c per lb.; coffee, 50c; sugar 20@25c, and beans 20c per lb.; and beef is retailing for 25c in the market. All kinds of feed for animals has been extortionately high. Oats and barley have brought 5@10c per lb, wheat 2½@6c, hay $75@$125 per ton. Straw, even of oats and wheat, sold for $20 per ton.

The road to the mines, although it crosses some very high mountains, has been kept open nearly all winter, and hundreds are moving thitherwards, at this early day; and the expresses have been running pretty much all the while. There is still six feet of snow on the Salmon flat, where the rich mines are located. Speaking of roads to the mines, reminds me of the fact that some of your correspondents and informants are laboring under a delusion in regard to a wagon road via the Grand Ronde. Not even a trail had been opened up to the 1st of January, as I conversed with one of the party wintering there, in reference to said trail, about that time; but little had been done to it. Don't allow yourself and readers to be duped by speculators and persons otherwise interested. As a caution, I would instance the fact that there was a person by the name of Meek (many of your readers are cognizant of the time and difficulties encountered) who undertook to pilot a party on his cut-off. It proved a dear experiment to many of the unfortunate ones, who followed his blind lead. It was a cut-off indeed, to their animals and supplies.

You cannot imagine the eagerness with which every little scrap of news is devoured on its arrival here. Even the Mountaineer is in great request, when a stray one happens to find its way here. Even the Secesh, so rampant in the Fall, is now down in the mouth, since the Advertiser has been cut off. There are a great number of Union men here of its school. Nearly all the gamblers resident here, and a large proportion of other tipplers, are of that ilk. It is not so much to be wondered at, when the fact is considered that ignorance, vice and rum, are the stimulants upon which traitors feed. It was so in Revolutionary times. Secession and toryism are twin relics now. The outside betters having run out of pewter, the gambling Secesh fraternity are now engaged in bucking against each other; that creates some interest among the former victims.

There is little done here yet in the way of farming. The weather being dry last Fall, very little wheat was sown. What little there is in, was sown in December. I predict that little wheat will be raised in this valley, the coming harvest. The season being so far advanced—it being too late to sow Fall wheat—a resort must be had to Spring wheat. The latter will only bring $1 50, while Fall wheat commands but $2 at the mill; it brought more for feed. The latter figure is entirely too low, considering the price of flour. There is one mill only yet in operation. The new mill awaits some of her machinery. After the receipt of it, which depends on the opening of navigation, it will be set running. Barley and oats will be the principle crop this Spring. There is not near wheat enough in this valley for home consumption, until after harvest.

Beef must necessarily command a good price in the mines, as the stock still alive, will not be suitable for driving before the first of May. The supplies in the mines are not at all adequate for the present population, for more than two months. The great number now going there without anything except their blankets, and only provisions enough to take them there, will be large consumers. Persons are now going in fast, some with hand-sleighs, and every other conceivable way; and many are bumming their way through.

The Government folks stationed here, anticipating a great scarcity there, have dispatched a mule train of some seventy animals laden with supplies, for the miners. It is a matter of speculation, such as the officers here indulged in, at the expense of Government, for the past four or five years. I have some developments to make on this score in my next.

D. J. S.

OUR FACETIOUS PRESIDENT.—The Baltimore American of January 29th has the following bit of gossip:

We learn from excellent authority that during the recent visit of the Finance Committee of our Board of Trade to Washington, an informal visit was paid to President Lincoln, by whom the Committee was received with all of his well-known affability and cordiality. Encouraged by the President's open manner, one of the members of the committee made bold to attack him directly upon the topic nearest his own heart, when the following dialogue ensued:

"Mr. President, I wish you would tell me where the Burnside Expedition has gone?"

"Why, don't you know where they have gone, I thought every body knew that."

"Well, sir, it may appear very ignorant in me, but I must confess I don't know, and that I should like to know exceedingly."

"You really surprise me, sir. The papers have been full of it; everybody has been talking of it—and I do not suppose there was anybody who did not know all about it. Of course I will tell you, if you promise not to give your authority."

The gentleman promised solemnly.

The President drew his chair close to him, and with his hand carefully interposed between him and the rest of the company, whispered with mysterious emphasis: "The Burnside Expedition, sir, has gone to sea!"

JIMMY O'MEARA'S TREASON EXCLUDED FROM THE MAILS.—The postmaster at San Francisco has informed the postmaster at Salem that, "Brig. Gen. Wright, commanding United States Army of the Pacific, has issued an order requiring the exclusion from circulating through the United States mails and post-offices, of the Southern Oregon Gazette, an incendiary and treasonable publication, published at Jacksonville, Oregon."

The remaining two journals of this character will certainly go the same road, that is, not go at all, if they continue in open advocacy of Jeff. Davis. Jimmy's remarks about that "pure patriot and statesman," Breckinridge, were probably what upset that establishment.—Statesman.

UTAH.—Can a Territory become a State without the sanction of Congress? That Congress has power to reject the application of any Territory as a State, may be learned from the history of the admission of Michigan. The celebrated boundary war is not forgotten. It arose out of the refusal of Congress to admit that State until her boundaries were properly adjusted. The principle was settled at that time, never again it may be hoped to be seriously questioned by any portion of our people. The nation is a unit—State rights are subordinate to those of the Federal Government—the people are one.

ANOTHER STONE FLEET.—The N. Y. Commercial, of Saturday evening, says:—"A number of additional vessels have been purchased and will be loaded with stone and sent to some port in the South. It may be safely concluded that the principal Southern ports will in a few weeks be rendered inaccessable and the necessity for opening new ports rendered imperative. The fleet at present in course of preparation will be equal to the one which has just sailed and will probably be sufficient to hermetically seal the largest of the Southern ports.

The Treasurer of the Numkeag (Mass.) Mill, in his report, states that he has imported a small lot of India cotton, which cost seven pence sterling, and laid down at our ports at or under eighteen cents a pound. Since making this purchase he has found that the higher grades of India cotton are of better quality than he had heretofore supposed and has sent an order for one hundred bales more.

A fearful amount of suffering prevails among families dwelling in the counties of York and Warwick, Virginia, the able male members being generally on military duty, and no provision having been made for their families. The same story is too true in many other portions of the State.

Government is about to take measures against the issuing of proclamations by our generals in the future—the practice having been carried to mischievous lengths. The Government sees no reason why a general should notify an enemy of his purposes, when he goes among them.

Items.

The Potter investigating Committee, who are enquiring into the disloyalty of the clerks of the Departments, will report soon. Some remarkable disclosures will be made, proving that at least five hundred persons with Secession proclivities are still in office.

It has only just been discovered that the town of Beaufort, South Carolina, is a position capable of the most extended commerce with the four quarters of the world. The region round about produces the best cotton product on the face of the earth. Leather, corn, rice, coffee, fruit of the best kinds, can be produced in Beaufort district; ships might be unloaded and loaded here for every port in the realms of commerce, and the climate, with attention to the laws of health, is salubrious at all seasons of the year. Those advantages will hereafter receive fuller development.

Colonel Windham, the English rifleman who distinguished himself during the Italian war under Garibaldi, having offered his services to the United States Government, has been appointed to a position in the Fifteenth Wisconsin Regiment.

In Alabama the soldiers are arming with a new kind of weapon, the Alabama pike, consisting of a keen two-edged steel-head, like a large bowie-knife blade, a foot and a half long, with a sickle-like hook, very sharp. So fearful are these weapons, that a "row of them would strike the terror of ten thousand deaths to the souls of Butler's Yankees."

Dr. Hall's Balsam.—The proprietors do not claim that this medicine is infallible, but refer to the certificates of distinguished citizens, well known to the public, for abundant proof that it has been remarkably successful, and is therefore well worth a fair trial.

How to go to the Mines.—Miners who now purpose going to Salmon River, Rhodes Creek, and the other mining regions, should not start out unprepared to travel through a cold and starved out country, for it is known by all who have come from above the Cascades that the country is now bare of all kinds of provisions, by its supplies having been cut off by the long stoppage of navigation. Therefore we would enjoin all who wish to go through comfortably, and return with their pockets full of "Rocks," to call at HARKER BROTHERS, opposite the Upper Wharf, and supply themselves with Flour, Bacon, Beans, Groceries, Blankets, Clothing, Rubber and Nailed Boots, and all other articles necessary for mining purposes, before they embark for the Land of Promise.

Bob o' Link.

BY FITZ-JAMES O'BRIEN.

It was noon in summer. The earth lay breathless in the heat, with its thousand tongues in wood and field too faint for their accustomed low, mysterious speech. The Long Island shore, white and crescented, bared its bosom like Danae to the golden embraces of the sun. In the meadows the heavy-crested grasses with nodding heads beat time to the sweet wash of waves upon the beach. Yellow spires of the golden-rod pierced the air like steeples. The tulip-tree, robed like a priest in floral green, held up to heaven with branching arms a thousand golden chalices. Far away across the Sound lay the Connecticut shore trembling through mist, while behind me, from the green recesses of a deserted garden, the oriole poured forth its monotone of sorrow.

As I sauntered down the little path that led from the old house where I was boarding for the summer, to my favorite haunt by the sea-shore, with clouds of insects springing from the grass like a living spray at every step I took, I suddenly heard the saucy notes of that low comedian of birds, the Bob o' Link. As I have always had a friendly feeling towards this ornithological farceur, I set to work to obtain an interview with him. I was not long in discovering his whereabouts. He was sitting on the stump of a rail chattering vehemently, and as well as I understood his language, impudently; peering his feathers, cocking his head on one side, as if he had a passion for seeing Nature upside down, and shaking his wings as though he contemplated an immediate migration to the coast of Africa. About every half minute or so he would suddenly leave his perch, and flying a little distance, flop in the long meadow-grass, whence instantly would proceed a most astounding vocal effort, after which he would reappear and resume his rail in triumph. His frequent journeys to the same spot led me to suspect that he had some private interest in that quarter—a nest, or a young bride, perhaps, and that he was, in fact, passing his honeymoon; so I walked towards the place in which I saw him disappear last, determined to be a witness of his domestic bliss.

It seemed to me that a human head was lying alone and bodiless in the deep sea green of grass that surrounded me. A beautiful youth's head, blonde spiritual, looking up at me with a calm, unfrightened look, while nestling close to its pale, rounded cheek, hushed and rather astonished by my appearance, sat Master Bob o' Link.

The head, however, was not without a body. The long bending grass met over the form, leaving exposed only the pale, beautiful face, which looked like an exquisite Venetian picture framed in gold and green.

"Good morning, sir," said the youth in a sweet voice, as I bent over him, looking, I suppose, a little bewildered at this sudden apparition and fondling, at the same time, Master Bob o' Link with long, slender fingers. "Good morning, sir."

"Good morning," I answered. "You seem to be taking things quietly here."

He gave a sudden glance downward toward his feet, and a sad smile flickered over his lips.

"I am obliged to take things quietly," he said.

"Ah! an invalid, I suppose? I am sorry."

"I am paralyzed, sir."

No words can paint the tone of utter despair in which he made this terrible statement. If you have ever spoken with a man who had spent twenty years in solitary confinement, you will have noticed the unearthly calm of his voice, the low monotone of sound, the loneliness of accent. Well, this lad's voice sounded so. He talked like one shut out of life. I made a place for myself in the grass and sat down beside him.

"I was attracted by your bird," I said; "I thought he had a nest here, and so followed him. I trust I am not intruding?"

"Not at all, sir; I am glad to have some one to speak to. As for Bob, he has a nest here. But it's in my heart. He is the only thing on earth that loves me."

"You take too sad a view of life, my friend. You calamity is great, no doubt, but still—"

"Ah, sir! it's all well enough to talk so when you have limbs, and health, and freedom. When you can work and go out into life and tread the earth with the full consciousness of being. But when ever since you can remember you have been but the moiety of a man, utterly helpless, utterly dependent, an infant without an infant's happy unconsciousness! But what's the use of my talking to you in this way? Here, Bob, show the gentleman your tricks."

Bob, on this summons, left his post by the lad's cheek, where he had remained perfectly still, taking an inventory of my person with his round bright eyes, and apparently measuring me for a suit of clothes, and suddenly flew into the air, where he summersaulted and pirouetted, and affected to lose use of his wings and tumble from an appalling height, invariably recovering himself before he reached the ground, after which he gravely alit upon his master's breast and thrust his little bill affectionately between his lips.

"You have tamed your bird wonderfully," I said to the boy.

"It has been my amusement during many solitary hours," he answered, with a feeble smile.

"How is it that you have been left solitary?" I asked. You live in the neighborhood?"

"In that house up yonder, just peeping from behind that clump of maples," and he pointed, as he spoke, toward a respectable farm house.

"And you have friends—a family?"

"Ah, sir! they are kind enough to me; but they must be very tired of me by this time."

"Come," said I, encouragingly, laying my hand on his shoulder, "come, tell me all about yourself. I'm a good listener; besides, I am interested in you. Bob here looks as if he was anxious for a story. This is a charming nook that we are in, so I'll just light a cigar, and do you talk."

The free and easy manner I assumed seemed to suprise him. He glanced shyly at me out of his large blue eyes, as if suspicious of my sincerity; then he heaved a little sigh, stroked Bob's feathers, as if to assure himself of the presence of at least one friend, and saying, "As you please," commenced:

"I am eighteen," he said: "you would not think it, for I know I look younger than I am. Confinement and suffering have made my complexion pale and transparent, and the sun and the winds that harden other men's skins and features, have had but little to do with me. Ever since I can remember I have been paralyzed in the lower limbs. For years I lay upon an inclined plane of board,—looking up at the ceiling with a mind very nearly as blank as the white plaster I gazed at. My father died when I was a mere infant, and there was no one left in the house but mother and cousin Alice and me."

"Cousin Alice," I said; "who is she?"

(Conclusion to-morrow.)

☞ Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL, and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to 'Brown's Bronchial Troches,' or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

☞ Californians should test the merits of Dr. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. While it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequalled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the mines, many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs, and of various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand at the mines. Its daily use will restore the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Yet the Bitter is the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter Bitter, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health.—Sold by Druggists and dealers everywhere. 16:4t.

☞ The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy, with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Ricord is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country; as a proof of which the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary ad eundem degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr. L. J. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert, that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding, please enclose $10 in their letters, and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., San Francisco, Cal. Union State Convention.

The qualified voters of the State of Oregon who are in favor of the suppression of the present wicked rebellion, a vigorous prosecution of war so long as necessary to frustrate the mad schemes of armed traitors—who are opposed to any peace other than the honorable one [illegible] when rebels and their sympathizers submit to the constitutionally elected and qualified authorities and the enacted laws of the Government—who think more of country than of party prejudice and individual preferment—who are in favor of supporting the general government in its endeavors to defend the Constitution, execute the laws and preserve the Union—and who are willing to unite in the election of a ticket upon such basis at the coming general election, without regard to former political [illegible], are requested to meet at the places of voting in the several precincts in the various counties of the State on Saturday the 22d day of March, A. D. 1862 (to also [illegible]) County Conventions to [illegible] in the respective [illegible] the State, at the county seats [illegible] on Saturday the 29th day of March, 1862, for [illegible] delegates to a State Convention to be held in Eugene City, Lane county, on Wednesday the 9th day of April, 1862, for the purpose of nominating a [illegible] for State Officers and Member of Congress [illegible] counties [illegible] county, to Delegates [illegible] Douglas [illegible] Umpqua 2, Lane [illegible], Benton [illegible], Linn [illegible], Yamhill, 6, Marion [illegible], Clackamas [illegible], Multnomah [illegible], Washington, 4, Columbia 1 [illegible]

We recommend the holding of precinct and county meetings at the hour of [illegible] o'clock p. m., and the meeting of the State Convention at [illegible] o'clock of the day named.

To the Republicans of Oregon

The undersigned were instructed at the last State Convention to Convene the Republicans of the State at their next meeting at Eugene City.

Events that have transpired since the meeting of the last State Convention could not then be foreseen and it is now [illegible] the people, paramount to all issues that heretofore divided political parties.

While we claim no right to dissolve the Republican organization, nor do we see any cause to recant any political principle heretofore held by us; yet believing that the vital issue, now before the people is the preservation or destruction of our institutions; we are unwilling to do anything to distract the Union sentiment in the coming canvass; and therefore have deemed it unwise to call a party convention with a view to the support of a distinctively Republican ticket.

In taking this course, we have been guided by the expressed wishes of Republicans throughout the State, and an honest [illegible], to avoid any barrier to the hearty support of a Union ticket by the loyal support of the State without regard to former political differences.

History verifies the fact that the Fathers of our common country, supposed that they had cemented a perpetual Union [illegible] only traitors who have now attempted to overthrow [illegible] call upon and all to the support of the priceless inheritance bequeathed to us by the founders of this Republic. He that neglects, for any trivial cause at this time, to testify his devotion to our country [illegible] a government that has made us the most [illegible] and [illegible] people on the face of the Globe, is not worthy the name of American citizen! We therefore trust to the intelligence and patriotism of the loyal people of this State, to show by unanimity at the coming convention and election, their abhorrence of secession and treason, their love of country, its prosperity and perpetuity.

We therefore earnestly recommend to the Republican voters of the State, that without regard to party, they should in the coming canvass, heartily unite in nominating and supporting a ticket composed of Union men who stand the test embraced in the call which is herewith published.

H. W. CORBETT,
E. D. SHATTUCK,
W. C. JOHNSON,
Republican State Central Committee.

Portland, Jan. 8th, 1862.

Multnomah Union Convention.

The loyal voters of Multnomah County, who are in favor of electing men to office who are pledged to sustain the Government in its efforts to suppress the rebellion, maintain and enforce the laws by all the means at its command, and are willing to respond to the call made for a Union State Convention, are invited to meet in their several precincts at the usual places of voting, at one o'clock on Saturday, the 22d day of March, 1862, and elect delegates to a Union County Convention, to be held at the Court House, in Portland, on Saturday the 29th day of March, 1862, for the purpose of electing [illegible] delegates to the Union State Convention, to be held in Eugene City on the 9th of April, 1862. The precincts are entitled, upon the basis of the popular vote, to delegates as follows: North Portland, 10, South Portland, 20; Multnomah, 2, Powells Valley, 3; Willamette, 2, Sandy, 2; St John's, 1; Sauvie's Island

Washington County Union Convention

The Union men of Washington county are hereby requested to meet in their several precincts, at the usual place of voting, at 1 o'clock p. m. on Saturday, the 22d day of March, 1862, and elect delegates to represent them in a Union County Convention, to be held at Hillsboro on Saturday the 29th day of March 1862 for the purpose of electing delegates to the Union State Convention to be held at Eugene City, April 9th, 1862. Each precinct will be entitled to the following number of delegates: Hillsboro 13, Forest Grove, [illegible], Butte, 4, Centreville, 4, Dairy Creek, 2, Wapatoo, 2, South Tualatin, 2, Beaver Dam [illegible], and Cedar Creek, 4.

Let no Union man in this hour of his country's trial, fail of his duty.

Clackamas Union Convention.

The Union men of Clackamas county, who love their country—who are opposed to the dismemberment of our Union for any cause, and upon any terms—who believe in suppressing armed rebellion by force of arms—and who are willing to respond to the call made for a Union State Convention, are requested to meet in their several precincts at the usual places of voting at one o'clock on Saturday the 22d day of March, 1862, and elect delegates to a Union County Convention, to be held at the Court House in Oregon City, on Saturday, the 29th day of March 1862 for the purpose of electing six delegates to the Union State Convention, to be held in Eugene City on the 9th day of April 1862, and transacting such other business as the Convention may deem proper. The precincts are entitled, upon the basis of the popular vote, to delegates as follows: Oregon City, 13, Milwaukie, 3, Young's 2, Rock [illegible] 2, Spring water, 2; Rock Creek 2, Beaver Creek, 2, Upper Molalla, 4, Lower Molalla, 3, [illegible] 3, Linn City 3, Canby [illegible], Pleasant Valley, 2, Tualatin, 1.

Let no Union man fail to be present at his precinct meeting.

Notes.

Proposals must be to carry the mail with "celerity, certainty and security," using the terms of the law, and they must be guaranteed by two responsible persons, certified to as such by a postmaster or judge of a court of record.

No pay will be made for trips not performed, and for each of such omissions not satisfactorily explained three times the pay of the trip may be deducted. For arrivals so far behind time as to break connexion with depending mails, and not sufficiently excused, one fourth of the compensation for the trip is subject to forfeiture. Fines will be imposed unless the delinquency be satisfactorily explained, for neglecting to take the mail from or into a post office, for suffering it to be injured, destroyed, robbed, or lost, and for refusing, after demand, to convey the mail as frequently as the contractor runs, or is concerned in running vehicles on the route. The Postmaster General may annul the contract for a violation of the post office laws, or disobedience of the instructions of the department. He may alter the schedule, and also order an increase of service by allowing therefor a pro rata increase on the contract pay. He may also curtail or discontinue the service in whole or in part, at pro rata decrease of pay allowing one month's extra compensation on the amount of service dispensed with. Bids should be addressed to the "Second Assistant Postmaster General," superscribed "Proposals, State of Oregon," and sent by mail.

For forms of proposal, &c. and other information, see advertisement of this date, in pamphlet form, at the principal post offices.

Blank proposals will be furnished on application to the Postmasters at Astoria, Salem and Portland.

M. BLAIR,
Postmaster General.

Of all diseases, the first great cause,
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret disease—Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gonorrhea, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance, and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs, such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the face, pains in the back and head, female irregularities, and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely [illegible] the majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering and consigning them to an early grave.

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system, drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by many years of practice and sanctioned by the experience of the most eminent [illegible] Medical [illegible] in Paris, Vienna and Washington [illegible] [illegible] ailing their symptoms by letter.

All business [illegible] strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co's Office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief.

Below we publish the certificates of three of the many sufferers from the pangs of disease, who have been restored to their former health, and are grateful to acknowledge publicly their cases and treatment, and their statements are authenticated by a Notary Public. [illegible] we [illegible] commend them to public notice, and we [illegible] their perusal to the attention of the afflicted.

Certificate.—The undersigned [illegible] those who may be similarly situated [illegible] where a permanent relief [illegible] duty [illegible] Dr. L. J. Czapkay [illegible] recovery of his health. [illegible] symptoms [illegible] to the [illegible] in my youth [illegible] I [illegible] the most [illegible] of life [illegible] physicians [illegible] at first regarded [illegible] but after [illegible] instances [illegible] alarm [illegible] that instead of [illegible] my symptoms became more alarming in their character [illegible] that my disease [illegible] would be of little consequence [illegible] my health, strength, and as a last resort, and [illegible] with but a faint hope [illegible] upon Dr. Czapkay, who after examining my case [illegible] instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by the result [illegible] immediately under his care, and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice, my health became clear and my [illegible], the constant pain in my back and groins, the weakness of my limbs, the nervousness [illegible], my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the misanthropy and evil forebodings, the self-distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapability to study, and want of resolution, the frightful exciting and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared, and in fact, in two months after having [illegible] the doctor, I feel as if inspired by a new life—that life which [illegible] I had [illegible] expected to end by my own hand. With this view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to call attention to the ability and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience, that any one under his care, a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

MARYSVILLE, June 24, 18[illegible].

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more, as I feel very well except that I have not entirely got my strength yet, but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks you may recollect since I [illegible] your institute with my constitution, as I thought, [illegible] and never thought you would be able to [illegible] [illegible] you might be able to [illegible] [illegible] to use the pain in my back and head, and strength [illegible] so that I would not get excited and tremble at [illegible] nothing. Now that you know what I expected you can judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from all symptoms, and the removal of those sores and [illegible] my skin, and the ulcers from my throat, and the [illegible] [illegible] which I was told were [illegible] cure of my [illegible] knees. I can hardly tell you which is the [illegible] my surprise [illegible] except not having [illegible] my strength [illegible] as well as any man can feel.

I [illegible] send you twenty dollars over your [illegible] think myself cheaply [illegible]. If you think anybody will be benefited you may put this letter in the newspapers. I [illegible] gratefully yours.

Thankfulness is the incentive to—

[illegible]—It might be an honest desire of my [illegible] I wish [illegible] before the public a case which deserves [illegible] [illegible] not only as a proof of a bonafide skill, but [illegible] humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly, and [illegible] [illegible] unknown to me, was seized with a fit of [illegible] which owing to my inability to meet the expense [illegible] upon medical treatment, and the [illegible] which I met with on attempting it, soon [illegible] [illegible] to believe [illegible] to defy the skill of [illegible] physicians. I was frequently while in pursuit of my [illegible] [illegible] down [illegible] without the slightest [illegible] [illegible] the moment I yet [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] danger [illegible] [illegible] sought [illegible] the existence of my [illegible] [illegible] state and having previous to my [illegible] [illegible] more who induced [illegible] [illegible] and by [illegible] recommendation [illegible] Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my [illegible] [illegible] for his services. [illegible] undertook my case, and [illegible] [illegible] was once more restored to perfect health [illegible] into the [illegible] which I [illegible] [illegible] my indebtedness, I [illegible] [illegible] the case [illegible] [illegible] advice may find a [illegible] [illegible] can be placed.
